

Feeling artsy & homey: Art Jamming Event

It has always been the current AA committee's desire to hold a social gathering event for our members to enjoy themselves. The first one, though on a small scale, was held successfully on the first Saturday last December! 9 eager Holy Familians returned to the school's art room, now richly decorated with students' artwork, and tried a hand at acrylic painting in 3 hours' time.

Most of us had not used a paintbrush for a long while and gratefully looked to Tiennie Chen, our younger alumnus and fine art student at the Chinese University of Hong Kong, for guidance. We began the "class" with worried-free chit-chats but very soon relaxing music as well as Tiennie's murmurs could only be heard in the room as everyone concentrated on their work. At the end of the day, we all managed to complete their masterpieces and, naturally adhering to some past routines, washed the paintbrushes and buckets before leaving school in youthful smiles.

We warmly thank Tiennie as well as Ms Hazel Ng, the new art teacher, for their kind cooperation in bringing about the event. We look forward to meeting more members in the future! You are always welcome to send ideas of future gatherings to us!

Mock Interview 4.1.2014

Co-organized with school's Career Team, this year's Mock Interview event was smoothly run with the help of 41 keen alumnae on Jan 4. It is lovely for us to see our old girls again and equally delightful to meet recent graduates that returned as interviewers for the first time.

The goal of holding this interview is to improve S.6 students' interview skills when applying for universities. Before the event, a briefing session was held for the enrolled students. Exco members, Zebbie Ng and Kristen Wong gave a talk on dos and don'ts in an interview. Students showed intense enthusiasm and eagerly raised questions afterwards.

On the interview day, students attended a group interview for their choice of university subject. Participating alumnae were divided into different groups, namely, Arts, Pure Science, Medicine, Business, Communications and Media stream.

After the interview, students reflected that the experience was practical and useful in improving their interview skills while interviewers admired that the young girls exhibited great manners and eagerness to learn about their imperfections.

We would love to thank the below alumnae again for giving a hand hereby, and hope you will also be able to join us next year: Martha Yeung, Teresa Tang, Flora Mak, Dr. Chung Siu Leung, Erica Lai, Janice Ho, Christy Wong, Gigi Wong, Christine Li, Perry Diu, Candy Wan, Esther Ho, Jacqueline Leung, Kay Lam, Holly Yan, Frances Wong, Queenly Lam, Teresa Lam, Stephanie Chow, Rita Lo, Rosaline Wong, Katy Ip, Amy Pau, Iris Wan, Joyce Yu, Joyce Cheung, Man-Ting Fong, Pinky Leung, Erica Wong, Teresa Yeung, Cherry Tam, Cathy Chan, Sophia Cheng, Berenice Wong, Gloria Fok, Lai-Sim Wong, Kathy Fok, Virginia Lee, Joan Lau, Regina Poon, Ivo Chan
